Who Become Threads to Join people.

“Yasmin sarvam idam protam Brahma shavara Jangamam”

In which All this Moving and non moving
Are joined That thread Is Supreme divine

All things are connected with each other. All events, All occurrence, All people, All beings, All places, All planets, satellite, stars galaxies and universes, All trees, animals, reptiles, birds, All drops of water, All grains of sand, All butterflies, All clouds, All colours, All notes of sound, All Ragas of music, All actions, reactions proactions and proactions, All feelings and emotions, All thoughts and ideas, All information and knowledge, All problems and solutions, All products, processes, projects, programs and plans. All theories, concepts, philosophies and religions. All formulae and rations. All Mantras, All letters and words, All numbers and figures, All individuals and groups, All organizations and countries, All Hills and mountains, All rivulets, streams and rivers. All fields and crops, All efforts and crops, All studies and understandings, All light and shadows, All parts and whole and All quantities and qualities are connected.

Everything in this creation is inter connected, inter related, inter dependent and inter active.

What connects than? That which connects them all is God, Divinity, Brahma, Allah, Bhagvan, Lord, Nirvana & Completeness, THE ONE and suchness.

Let us see at cosmic Scale and in full picture what connects all of them.

Time connects all events. All this universe from the point of creation to this very moment is conclusive and definitely connected by Time.

This moment is the consequence of billions and billions of sequence. We all are connected to common ancestors, common life elements and common beginning. Time is the Master. In time only things emerge, surge, verge and merge. Time is the one common Thread. Respect Time, Worship Time. Be timely. Time and timing are divine. Time is God.

Love connects, kindness sympathy, empathy, compassion, consideration, friendship, closeness, nearness and ourness are love only.

When you love you connect at heart, feelings and emotion level. Whoever loves all people, all beings and all things is in connection with all of them. When you love a thing or person you give time to that thing or person.

Any person who is in intensive love with any one object becomes one with that object and experience. Then when a person is in love with many or all, will experience cosmicness. Wholeness and universal oneness. Love heals, Love energies, Love generates dedication.

Love is another Common Thread. Respect Love worship Love. Extend Love, Be Loving, Love is Divine, Love is God.

Truth connects, all that exists is connected to total reality the ultimate truth. Truth is fact and all fact are reality. Truth reveals and truth is eternal.

When you see truth all things fall in place and all connections are clear. Truth is beingness. Present-ness is truth. What is truth? Flower is beautiful, it is the link, the connection between the flower and beauty. IS is real. IS is "ISHWARA" the GOD. Truth is divinity. Truth is GOD.

Truth is another common thread. Respect Truth. Worship truth, see truth, speak truth, be truthful. Truth is divine truth is GOD.

Doing, Feeling, Thinking, Walking, Dreaming, Sleeping and Meditating occurs because of consciousness is responsibility. When you stand responsible for well-being of all you are totally conscious.

When you are Awake, Alert and Awake you are conscious. Be awake at body level, Alert at mind level, and Awake at thought level. Then you are conscious at all the three planes.

Conscious is THE COMMON THREAD Respect consciousness, worship consciousness, be conscious. Consciousness is divine. Consciousness is GOD.

When you are awake of time you are time conscious. When you are timely you are consciousness and when you are conscious you are timely. Time and consciousness are one and the same.

When you are in love you are conscious every that is connected with the object of you love makes you sensitive, alert and conscious. When you are loving you are conscious and you are conscious you are loving. Love and consciousness are one and the same.

When you see truth you are conscious. When you are truthful you are full of consciousness. When you are with truth, you are conscious and when you are conscious you are with truth. Truth and consciousness are one and the same.

Consciousness is the common thread. All moving and non-moving things are filled with consciousness. Consciousness connects all things.

Consciousness as time connects all events.

Consciousness as love connects all beings.

Consciousness as truth connects all realities and situations.

Consciousness as consciousness connects you, me, we THIS THAT and all.

THIS IS THAT THIS (CONNECTION) IS THAT (CONSCIOUSNESS)
