

Continuity to Renewal

15.01.1992

“Chaos to order to Chaos” has outlined the four stages of order - complexity - chaos - clearing. That work is at conception and perception level.

This work is the presentation of many real life situations, which declare the validity of the four stage cyclic system. This cycle of order to new order is not only a prophecy but a practicality.

When order is followed it is order
When order is questioned it is complexity
When order is disobeyed it is chaos
When order is re-established it is clearing.

Right man in right place is order
Right man in wrong place is complexity
Wrong man in right place is chaos
Replacement is clearing.

Order is sequence
Complexity is out of sequence
Chaos is no sequence

When expected occurs it is order
When unexpected occurs it is complexity
When expected not occurs it is chaos
When new expectations are understood it is doing.

When answers are known it is order
When questions are asked it is complexity
When answers are not known it is chaos
When answers are found it is clearing.

Order is plateau
Complexity is down the hill
Chaos is valley
Clearance is climbing up (uphill task).

Order is even
Complexity is uneven
Chaos is odd
Clearing is “odd man out.”

Order is arrangement
Complexity is mis-arrangement
Chaos is dis-arrangement
Clearing is re-arrangement.

When order is fulfilled it is order
When order is deviated it is complexity
When order is unfulfilled it is chaos
When order is re-filled it is clearing.

Breathing - in is order
