08.11.2001

Right Attitudes means pure mind, Right Works means healthy body and organs, Right Knowledge means clear intellect and thoughts and Right Spirit means vibrating and unifying consciousness.

Questions and Answers are Upanishadic way of learning.

I. Answers (Right Attitudes) (22.08.1989)

Right Answers

Mahabharata is the ocean of knowledge. It is the source and reference book for Government, Warfare, Strategy, Policy, Conduct, Courage, Kindness, Trickery, Methods to tackle Trickery, Tactics, Solutions and the way of life. Mahabharata is encyclopedia of human conduct, needs, behaviour, aspirations, conflicts, compromises, values, principles and right approach.

When Yudhishtir (The king of righteousness: 'Dharma Raja') approached the lake with unquenchable thirst, he saw his four brothers lying unconscious. Puzzled by this terrible scene he approached the lake to take some water.

The 'Yaksha' (The Spirit) warned Yudhishtir ('Stable in Conflict') that if he too, like his dead brothers, touches the water without answering his questions, he too shall meet the death. Yudhishtir controlled temptation to drink water and requested the 'Spirit' to proceed with his questions. The dialogue is full of guidelines for men and managers. This is not exact word to word translation but is adapted for present times, still retaining the eternal touch of Maha Bharata by Great Bhagavan Vyasa. More details are covered in the topic 'ANSWERS'.

This was the discussion between Dharma Raja; Yudhishtira and Dharma Deva, who came in the form of Yaksha.

Thus, it was a dialogue between Right Concept (Dharma Deva) and Right Practice (Dharma Raja). Right Questions and Right Answers.

Further it is the discussion between Father and Son. One of the answer given was that the Son is none other than one self. So, see ! it is the dialogue between one and one self.

Then if 'one' asks right questions to 'one self' he will sure get right answers.

Ask yourself. Answer yourself.

THIS IS THAT
THIS (ATTITUDE) IS THAT (ALMIGHTY)

II. Test for Technology (Right Works)

Test for technology is the competition of Technical and Engineering, lessons and insights gained during the existing years of 1964-1966 at Voltas Limited at Thana as a Trainee.

These two years of training at Thana Works of Voltas was a great learning experience.

Peer Mohammed used to generate very difficult and important questions and for me finding out the answers was an inspiring process. We all learned together and that learning became sound foundation for our careers in the fields of Technology Management and Leadership.

Now these are presented as dialogues between Vishwakarma and Vishveshwaraya. This is presentation to the memory of colleague-trainees and all the readers.

Universal Interview

Moksha Gundam Visvesvaraya expired and went straight away to heaven. Chitrugupta did not find any debit balance in the ledger of life of Visvesvaraya and found abundance of credit entries.

That was so because Visvesvaraya was not only an Engineer par excellence, an Architect of many a useful utility projects, a wise minister, a great thinker but he was also a multifaceted Practical Engineer - Statesman - Thinker. He was Jewel of India (Bharat Ratna).

When he passed away leaving his mortal body and entered into heaven, the King of Gods - Indra was very happy and respectful. He welcomed wise Visvesvaraya and thought how the great Engineer's knowledge, experience and wisdom could be used. That is when he called on Telepathy to Vishwakarma.

Vishwakarma (Constructor of Worlds) is the divine Engineer and the Master builder and Engineer. He is the Guru of Gurus of Engineers. Vishwakarma knew about Visvesvaraya and his accomplishments. When Indra requested Vishwakarma to consider to take Visvesvaraya as Professor of Engineering Construction at the Divine University of Engineering and Technology, the Godly Engineer, who was the Vice Chancellor of University, readily agreed to interview Visvesvaraya. When they met following dialogues occurred between the Divine Engineer and Descent Engineer. More details are covered in the topic 'TEST FOR TECHNOLOGY'

Garland of Gems is the adaptation of 'Vijnana Ratna Malika' by Shri Adi Shankaracharya, The Supremo of Advaita Philosophy.

The gems have appreciated multifold during intervening 1400 years since the master made the garland. They are shining guide lights during present times when man seems to have forgotten his own self.
